

Habitat for Humanity - New York City Affordable-Housing Green Building Symposium

Transforming Our Communities: Building Smarter, Building Green

Join leading green builders, including Habitat for Humanity affiliates from around the nation, in a symposium exploring innovative, environmentally-sound building practices for affordable homes.

WHEN: Thursday, April 12
2 pm - 5:30 pm

WHERE: Marble Collegiate Church
Fifth Avenue @ 29th Street, Manhattan

The program is free,
but reservations are required.
To register, contact:
Beverley Hoyte, (718) 246-5656
x 313, beverleyh@habitatnyc.org

PROGRAM: Opening Remarks: Les Bluestone, Chairperson, The Blue Sea Development Company, and Roland Lewis, Executive Director, Habitat for Humanity - New York City

Keynote Address: David Owen, New Yorker, author of Green Manhattan: Why New York Is the Greenest City in America

Discussion: Multifamily Green Building Performance, Michael Colgrove, Senior Project Manager, New York State Energy Research & Development Authority

Best Practices Panel: Habitat for Humanity affiliates from Austin, TX; Denver, CO; East Bay, CA; Twin Cities, MN

